EDITORIAL

Issue No. 9 April 1982

SMASH THE IRA!

EVERY YEAR, Sinn Fein, the political wing of the I.R.A., holds a "Bloody Sunday" commemorative march in mainland Britain. This year they wanted to march in Coventry and it was only the threat of a counter-demonstration by the National Front that led to the march being banned.

The anti-British march was therefore held in Birmingham, although it was again violently opposed by the National Front. Thatcher's Tory government is clearly scared of taking any effective action against the forces of Irish Republicanism. So it is repeatedly left to the N.F. to sweep from our city streets the I.R.A. – and the rag-bag of Reds, Iranians and Blacks who are led by their hatred of Britain to support the Republican cause.

It is of course disgraceful that Sinn Fein were allowed to march anywhere in Britain, let alone in Birmingham, where 21 innocent youngsters were blown to pieces in the I.R.A. pub-bombings of 1974. But even worse is the fact that Chief Constable Sir Philip "the NF will never march in my patch" Knights actively conspired with the political wing of the I.R.A., lying to the press and local people, so that they could parade unopposed past the sites of their own vile murders.

Nor is it only the police who have co-operated with the I.R.A. while attacking British patriots. The government allows the tricolour to be paraded through the streets of Britain. But at the same time the Home Office is considering proposals to ban racialists and loyalists from carrying the Union Jack in their own country!

INCAPABLE

The Tory government has also proved to be incapable of exerting any pressure on foreign powers who display sympathy towards the I.R.A.

Before rushing to allow the Pope into Britain, Mrs. Thatcher should at least have insisted that he excommunicate the I.R.A., something that he has stubbornly refused to do. The government should also insist that this "Man of Peace" must refrain from comments which encourage I.R.A. violence, such as his absurd 1979 comparison between repression in Northern Ireland and Poland.

The same pathetic weakness is shown by Mrs. Thatcher's lack of action over the activities of the I.R.A. fund-raising front NORAID in the U.S.A. This organisation operates openly in America, supported by members of the Senate and the Washington administration. Michael O'Fannery, a NORAID spokesman recently showed where this group stands when he said "I would be rather delighted to hear of a British soldier being killed; the more soldiers who go back to Britain in their coffins, the sooner it will be over".

America's military bases in Britain make the U.S. very vulnerable to government pressure, but the Tories have done nothing to force Reagan to cut this I.R.A. supply line which has caused so much suffering in Ulster.

How many more women and children must be blown apart? How many more young workers in uniform must be shot in the back? How many more innocents must die before the British people overthrow the rulers who have betrayed them and HANG THE MARXIST I.R.A.!

IMMIGRANTS AND IMMIGRATION

BLACKS BLACK THE POLICE

AFTER the Brixton riots, the Scarman report recommended that more Blacks should be encouraged to join the police force. This ignored the fact that the police have already spent tens of thousands of pounds advertising for Immigrant recruits, but still have only a handful.

In spite of this, Police Federation chairman Mr. Jim Jardine and other top cops attended a special meeting at the Home Office in late January. They discussed ways of clamping down on racialists and encouraging ethnic minorities to join the police.

This grovelling will not impress the Blacks.

The police have still refused to arrest any White racists for starting last year's "New Cross Massacre" fire. This isn't surprising, as the official investigation showed that the fire was started by a guest at the all-Black party. But at the rally called to mark the anniversary of the fire, leading Black Marxist Darcus Howe told the frenzied crowd that if the police did not arrest some Whites immediately, he would "declare war" on White society in Lewisham. Within a few days of this inflamatory speech, two nearby jewellers' shops were looted by mobs of young West Indians.

Blacks in South London even refuse to help with police inquiries into attacks on other Immigrants and so few will take part in identity parades that these have to be held on escalators on the Underground.

"There's no business like showbusiness..."

To make matters even worse for Mr. Jardine and "Community Relations policing", many Asians are also boycotting the police. The 50,000 strong Confederation of Indian Organisations has urged members of ethnic minorities not to join the force.

The president of the C.I.O., Tara Mukherjee, also threatened that there would be further street unrest this year because of the Immigrants' hatred of the police.

All in all, it looks like being a bad year for police recruitment among Blacks and another long hot summer for "Community Relations".

Police grovel to Black rioters

LARGE SECTIONS of the Immigrant Community are violent and lawless and have nothing but hate and contempt for White society in general and the police in particular. But if anyone thinks that this may cause the police to wake up to the evils of multi-racialism, they are sadly mistaken.

As usual the police are doing everything to appease the rioters, and the grovelling approach of many senior policemen is sickening.

In an article entitled Race Relations: A Vital Message From Our Top Policeman David McNee, Commissioner of the Metropolitan Police, boasts that "our selection system seeks to root out racists or anyone with excessive prejudices. Our probationary system places great emphasis on prejudice and explores the values and cultures of different races."

Furthermore, McNee states that if racist police officers are "found out", the Blacks can rest assured that he always takes "appropriate disciplinary action".

The International Police Congress, held in Brighton, condemned racialism and called on all policemen to "resist emphatically all racial tendencies". During the Congress the Vice-Chairman of the British Police Federation made four points, two of which were that "the racialism of the far Right is deplorable" and that "the Federation is proud of its record in advancing racial harmony".

New recruits at the Hendon Police Training Centre are given a full week of training into race relations while they only do three days training in riot control!

BRITISH JUSTICE AT WORK

IN EACH one of the three trials the Establishment needed to put one of our Editors, Joe Pearce, behind bars, the judge, a different one in each case, specifically refused a defence plea that Coloured Immigrants be excluded from the jury. This was despite the fact that Joe was accused of "inciting racial hatred" against such immigrants.

But in the trial of four Black youths accused of killing a White man in Hackney, at the Old Bailey on November 10th last, a different law applied. Judge Edward Clarke granted a defence plea to exclude patriotic Whites from the jury. He said to the 70 members of the panel from which the jury was to be chosen: "If any of you hold strong views against Black people or support parties like the National Front you should, under these circumstances, disqualify yourselves by saying you shouldn't wish to be considered for this jury."

Four White mugs duly disqualified themselves from trying this brutal Black race murder. The three judges in the Joe Pearce case even refused to ask potential jurors if they were Reds or ANAL supporters!

Meanwhile, at Nottingham Crown Court in October, the Prosecution Counsel, Brian Appleby Q.C., told a jury that a Coloured rape victim "would never have consented to have intercourse with a White man". He went on "This is her racial stance, and it is her right". Whites who have similarly defended the right of White girls not to mate with Coloureds have been prosecuted and jailed under the Race Act.

It all goes to show that there's one law for Blacks and another law for Whites.

BLACK GOLD

IN SPITE of the cuts in essential social services for ordinary Britons, Blacks are still getting hundreds of thousands of pounds from local councils and churches.

The British Council of Churches expects to spend well over £400,000 this year. Much of this will be handed over to groups like the Liverpool 8 Defence Committee, which was given £500 after the Toxteth riots.

The Greater London Council will be handing out nearly £200,000 to "voluntary community groups". These include the Blacks and Marxists in the Notting Hill Community Law Centre (£4,000), Community Health for Ethnic Minorities (£6,500) and the South London Immigration and Nationality Unit (£15,820).

Every week this winter, hundreds of elderly Londoners have died from cold and malnutrition. Yet of the 34 groups backed by the G.L.C., not one was set up to help our pensioners.

ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL

Nuclear Power Dearer Than Coal

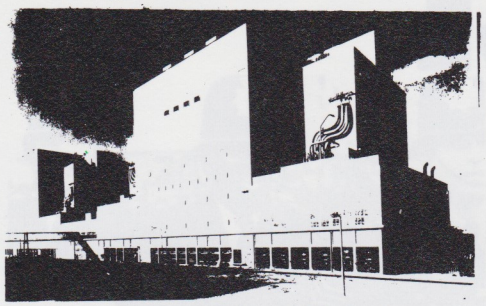
NUCLEAR power is more expensive than that produced by coal-fired stations. That is the conclusion of a report of a committee chaired by Sir Kelvin Spencer, the scientist who advised the Ministry of Power in the early days of Britain's nuclear programme.

The report shows that electricity produced by the new Dungeness B nuclear powered station is 70% more expensive than that produced by the new DraxB coal-fired plant. Similar results were obtained when comparing other nuclear plants with their coal-fired counterparts.

For example, electricity from the Hinckley Point B nuclear power station costs 44% more than that from its contemporary Drax A coal-fired plant.

GROSSLY INACCURATE

The figures used by the Central Electricity Generating Board to show that nuclear power was cheap are now grossly inaccurate as they did not make allowances for inflation, the report reveals.



This report has demolished the main argument of the pro-nuclear lobby that nuclear power is cheaper and therefore worth the risks it may carry.

The committee also alleged that the CEGB was run by "over promoted back room boys" who had developed an "emotional fixation" with nuclear power.

The report was released the day before the government and the CEGB abandoned plans to build 10 nuclear reactors over the next 10 years.

Crime Kills Communiy Spirit

FEAR of city crime is now so widespread that it is forcing people to stay indoors and is killing the traditional community spirit. These were just some of the findings revealed in a report issued last month.

And, a London research team also reports that in inner-city deprived areas, friendly neighbour attitudes have vanished, no one is happy and most people want to move out.

However, fear of crime emerges as the key factor in the report "Self Help in the Inner City", which was based on an investigation of four London boroughs.

The report was commissioned by the Department of the Environment and was produced by the London Voluntary Service Council.

It says that the major curb on community life is fear of crime – particularly break-ins and mugging.

The research team found community life had disintegrated and that "neighbourliness no longer exists". Residents tend to hate their environment, complain of ugliness and noise, pollution and dogs, as well as litter, broken windows, and rubbish.

In the four London boroughs examined, almost half the people interviewed never left home except for work or shopping – with nearly everyone agreeing that it was unsafe to be out at night.

OLD FOLK BETRAYED

IT IS a medical fact that in this year's cold winter thousands of pensioners died from hypothermia. Thousands more would also have died before their time if they had not put extra heating on as they were advised to do by government adverts on T.V. and in the papers.

As a result, having survived the winter, millions of our old folk now face a struggle to pay high fuel bills. Yet having told them to ignore the extra cost during the winter, the government is refusing to help the pensioners whose fixed low incomes simply cannot cover this extra burden.

Lump sum payments for heating costs will be available for O.A.P.s on supplementary benefit. But the three million pensioners who receive only rent and rate rebates will get no help at all, even though their needs are just as great.

The inevitable result of this callous letdown will be a rise in deaths from cold next winter as pensioners remember their high fuel bills and try to economise.

This disgraceful situation has been going on for years and will continue. The only answer is the National Front policy of FREE winter heating, up to certain limits, for ALL pensioners. After a lifetime of service to their country, it's the least our old folk deserve.

RIP-OFF

The Duke of Westminster

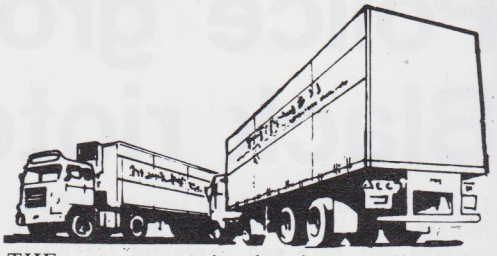
WHILST millions of Britons are suffering declining living standards through redundancies, small wage rises, wage freezes or even wage cuts, Britain's richest man is about to become even richer thanks to a new twist in the "hereditary wealth" tail.

The Government is to sell a £20 million property to the Duke of Westminster for a mere £23,700 under a 200 year old "buy back at the original price" agreement. The Duke (who inherited his title and wealth two years ago) is 'worth' a staggering £2,000 million!

What makes the scandal even worse is that the property in question is a hospital – St. George's. St. George's has been closed down because of the Tories health cuts.

So while millions of Britons grow poorer and the queue's for hospital beds grow longer, the Tory government makes sure that their own kind gets richer.

LORRY MADNESS



THE government is planning to allow the maximum weight for lorries to increase from 32½ tons to 40 tons.

This will boost the profits of the haulage firms, but will add greatly to road and building damage, pollution and road accident fatalities. It will also take more freight away from the railways, already under severe pressure from unfair competition from the juggernauts.

The move towards even bigger vehicles will be bad for Britain and the British people. But these days everything has to be done to Common Market standards, and haulage firms give large sums of money to the Conservative party, so the national interest just doesn't get a look in.

POLITICS

THE SDP's BACKERS

Claret guzzler Roy Jenkins

THE SDP's money coffers are continuing to fill up with money from big business. The latest is £5,000 from Marks & Spencer's, plus thousands more from other (mainly Zionist) business concerns. Leading Zionist big businessman, David Sainsbury (the party treasurer), must be quite confident that the target of £1½ million from big business will be easily reached.

But it is not just from this source that the SDP gets it's funds. The Rowntree Trust, which supports Marxist Black terrorists in Southern Africa and various red groups at home, is to donate £30,000. And when one adds on the thousands that pour into the SDP from other scum of the earth – i.e. various Lords, Peers, rich and powerful businessmen, Zionists, MP's, journalists etc – one can see that Woy Jenkins and his cronies will be able to afford the best claret for some time to come.

MEDIA STANCE

Mind you, the media will not make too much of an issue out of the SDP finances. The media is far more concerned in portraying it as "something new and improved" – as a party that can somehow make capitalism work.

So with the establishment money and media patronage, the SDP bandwagon will continue to roll on. However, Nationalists shouldn't be too disheartened by this, for it shows that at least the people are searching around for someone to lead us out of the mess the present clowns at Westminster have dropped us in.

But unfortunately for the people, the 'soft' option of the SDP – committed as they are to capitalism, racemixing, the bankers fraud and the EEC – will offer no real alternative to the present corrupt system. It will not be until the people take the 'hard' option of the NF, that a genuine alternative will be found.

MI5 Agent comes clean

THE British secret service regularly attempts to disrupt anti-Establishment political parties by using infiltrators to spy on them and act as agents provocateurs.

A good example of how the State security forces work came to light recently. Miss Betty Gordon revealed that she was recruited by MI5 in 1949 after answering an advertisement in The Times. During the 1950's she became a trusted and important member of the Communist Party. She was employed in the London offices of Soviet Weekly and had a part-time job with the British-Soviet Friendship Society. Miss Gordon also worked as a live-in nanny to senior Party members.

Miss Gordon decided to speak out because she felt "so guilty". Her action has been condemned by former MI5 chief Sir Martin Furnival Jones, who complained that "it seems very indisciplined of her to have talked publicly".

Of course, there is no reason for Nationalists to worry about Establishment infiltration of the Communist Party. The important aspect of this case is simply that it shows that the police and secret service can and do infiltrate opposition political parties.

The Reds are, like the Establishment, internationalist and multi-racialist. It would be interesting to know how much more attention the Powers That Be pay to their real opponents in the British Nationalist movement.

DEFENCE

BRITAIN CAN NO LONGER DEFEND HERSELF

TORY cuts have left Britain so short of fighter aircraft that we need the help of the United States Air Force to defend our own airspace. This was admitted by Tory Defence Secretary Nott to a Geneva-based journal, International Defence Review, at the end of January.

The RAF is 100 aircraft down on the number it needs to defend our homeland, thanks to Tory cutbacks. The Tories have retired old planes early and cut back on the production of new ones, in a desperate attempt to save money and prop up their bankrupt economic policies. Ironically, these cuts will actually cost more in the long run in money terms, but not before the next election.

Now that we can no longer defend ourselves, Nott admitted we would have to run to the Americans for help if attacked: "Certainly we would seek the support of the American Air Force and this island would be very rapidly reinforced by a major air defence capability."

INDEPENDENT

If a country cannot defend itself without foreign aid it can no longer be considered as really independent. This is the achievement of the Tories. For all their hypocritical flag-wagging they have betrayed our defence and left us with an inadequate foreign defence force. At the same time the Tories have reduced British foreign policy to an echo of that of the U.S.

SATELLITE STATE

The Tories have, therefore, turned our once proud nation into a vassal of Zionist America, a pawn unable even to defend itself. So much for the "Party of Patriotism". Tories who weaken our defences and turn us into a satellite state of Wall Street are every bit as much traitors as Reds who would weaken our defences and turn us into a satellite state of the Kremlin. And Tories and Reds alike will one day pay the traitor's price.

Yanks Go Home!

NATIONALIST defence policy was given a big boost by two recently published opinion polls on Britain's defence policy.

The majority of people echoed NF sentiments by calling for the closure of American bases in Britain while at the same time backing a British independent nuclear strategy.

This is hardly surprising given the American politico-military outlook towards the UK. The American military, which are an intimate part of the American system, regard the UK as an unsinkable aircraft carrier, anchored off the coast of Europe – very handy for their global strategy.

It is also very handy for the storage of their unwanted cruise missiles, neutron bombs and nerve gasses. All of which threaten Britain's survival in any possible shootout between the USA and Russia. In any such conflict, the American bases in Britain would be a prime target for attack.

To make matters worse, the American troops are of a low calibre, riddled as they are with racial in-fighting and drug-abuse. Hardly the sort of "protection" Britain needs!

WORLD AFFAIRS

IN NT no. 3, we predicted that the State Capitalist system of the Soviet Empire would solve the inherent contradiction of a free trades union existing in a totally unfree society by the use of force. In the event, the Poles, rather than the Soviets themselves, did the dirty work of crushing Polish workers. And their new leader, General Jaruczelski, has duly got the blame in the Western Capitalist Press.

But in fact the General had little choice, and nor did the troops under him. It was either them putting down the workers of their own country or the Soviets doing it for them. Matters were not made easier by the political naivity of the Solidarity leadership, which lacked a coherent radical nationalist line. Instead of demanding Polish workers' control of Polish industry, they allowed themselves to be subverted by Trotskyites peddling another version of State Capitalism and Zionists peddling their own version of racial supremacism.

NATIONAL FREEDOM

Thus many patriotic Poles in the Army especially accepted the necessity of the reactionary martial law regime and did not, as they might perhaps otherwise have done, rise in arms to assert their national freedom and workers' rights.

And in all the Western whinings and ineffectual threats about "economic sanctions", the real culprits have been conveniently forgotten. These are the Western bankers, to whom Poland, like other State Capitalist regimes, is thousands of millions of pounds in debt.

By December last year – just before General Jaruczelski sent the tanks in – the bankers were so worried about ever rising Polish debt defaults that they were threatening to foreclose and even to deny the Soviets the next round of loans they need to prop up their crumbling economy. This threat was undoubtedly what moved the Soviets to force the Polish Army to act.

ECONOMIC SABOTAGE

Poland has long been a thorn in the side of the bankers. Her proud and independent people have long resented labouring to feed Party bosses and Wall Street bankers rather than themselves and have increasingly taken to 'go-slows' and economic sabotage in retaliation. And under Solidarity, Polish industrial output fell further, by 13% in the first half of 1981 alone.

By late last year, the bankers were openly speculating as to whether it might be better to let the Soviets send the tanks in, or have them sent in. Articles expressing such views, but never attributed to individual bankers, appeared in the Capitalists' own reading matter, the 'quality Press' ever more often as the day of Poland's military coup approached. Behind the scenes, threats of foreclosure against the Soviet Empire and denial of credits grew.

So State Capitalism again rules supreme in Poland, thanks to Finance Capitalism. The serfs are back under the iron jackboot. Poland has now applied to join the bankers' club, the International Monetary Fund. Perhaps they should ask Mrs. Thatcher to be their Prime Minister as well!

Red Brigades – the Zionist connection

Begin... a nose for terrorism

ISRAEL is backing the Communist Red Brigades terrorists, an Italian judge revealed in Rome in mid-January. Summing up his investigation into 48 members of the Red Brigades' cells in the Italian capital – the people involved in the killing of former Italian Prime Minister Aldo Moro – Judge Ferdinando Imposimato accused the Israeli Secret Service of supplying the Marxist terror gang with "arms, money and information".

Speaking later to the Rome newspaper Il Messaggero, Judge Imposimato said the Zionist state was doing this "to bring about a civil war here, so that the United States would be forced to turn to Israel as a base for the security of the Mediterranean". He said he had obtained his evidence of Israeli involvement in Red Brigades terrorism from interrogations of jailed Brigades members during his investigation.

BOLOGNA BOMBING

Israel of course denies the charge. However since the Zionist state is led by a man, Menachem Begin, who led a terrorist group similar to the Red Brigades in Palestine in the 1940's, and since its Secret Service, Mossad, has frequently been caught engaging in and supporting terrorism around the world, such denials carry little weight. And, of course, these revelations of Israeli involvement in Italian Red terrorism open up new lines of enquiry in the search for those responsible for the 1980 Bologna bombing atrocity.

That terror attack was carried out with a murderous precision far beyond the capabilities of any terrorist group, but not the professional military-trained killers of Mossad, was blamed immediately, without evidence, on Zionism's Nationalist arch-enemies, and preceded two other bombings in France and Germany, equally mysterious though equally swiftly blamed on Nationalists.

The pattern is identical to the Mossad plan in the 1950's to blow up British and American offices in Egypt to stir up anti-Arab feeling in those countries, the notorious "Lavon Affair". And now the Israeli-Italian terror axis surfaces. Hmmm.....

ISRAELIS IN SPY SCANDAL

AN EXPLOSIVE report has just been released in the USA. It details systematic spying on the USA and other Western countries and particularly on American diplomats in Israel, over the past 30 years. The report "Israel: Foreign and Security Services", was discovered amongst ultra-secret papers seized at the American embassy in Iran. It's authenticity has been confirmed in Washington.

Because the report helps to destroy the myth of Israel as America's "No. 1 friend", attempts have been made to ban it, with the FBI trying to seize any copies brought into the country.

The report details attempts of:

- Blackmailing an employee at the USA consulate in Jerusalem by rigging an abortion case against him involving his Israeli girlfriend.
- Bugging the US ambassador's and other offices at the US embassy in Tel Aviv.
- Attempts to bribe Marine Guards.
- Attempts to penetrate classified defence projects in the US and other Western countries.

Egypt, even though now on friendly terms with Israel, has continued to be a big target for Israeli spying.

The report also states that Israel relies heavily on Jewish communities and organisations abroad for recruits and information.

It is hoped that the report's publication will help to open the eyes of the American public, not to just what their "friend" is up to, but also to the fact that the CIA and through them, USA governments, knew what the Israelis were up to – but refused to act against them!

CAPITALIST GASBAGS BUY COMMUNIST GAS

FRANCE is to become dependent on Soviet Siberian gas for 35% of its gas requirements. This is the result of a deal signed on January 23rd between the French and the Soviets, whereby the Soviets will supply France with 8,000 million cubic metres of gas per year for the next 25 years in return for desperately needed hard Western currency. The French Mitterand regime, which has been sounding off loud and long "deploring" the crackdown in Poland, is trying to play down the deal on the grounds that France already buys much of its oil from the Soviets anyway!

Meanwhile, the Italians have already signed up last October for 8,500 million cubic metres of Soviet gas and the West Germans a few weeks later for 10,500 million. Austria, Holland, Belgium and Switzerland are currently negotiating to buy another 12,000 million cubic metres of Siberian gas between them.

REPRESSION

The pipeline bringing the gas from Communist Soviet Siberia to Capitalist Western Europe is being built with West German, British and American parts and equipment. The hard currency earned by this typical 'Vodka-Cola' deal will enable the Soviets to buy Western grain to prop up their collapsing agricultural system and Western technology to build up their colossal military machine.

Mitterand... trading with the Soviets

Meanwhile, all the Capitalist countries involved are falling over each other "condemning" the Soviets for their repression of Polish trades unionists, "threatening sanctions" and otherwise posing impressively as "defenders of Polish freedom". What a farce!

Blacks In Black Hole

THREE Black tribesman were found dead, and two more injured, after being locked in an airtight strongroom barely 6 feet square for three days. They were beaten and then thrown in the steel box to bake in the sun by the Tswana 'tribal police' of the Toytown 'state' of Bophutatswana in South Africa. One of the survivors revealed that his only 'crime' was to get drunk at a funeral wake and make derogatory remarks about his local Chief.

SIN CITY

Apart from frying its citizens, Bophutatswana, one of the 'independent homelands' set up by the South African Government in a feeble if well-meaning attempt to get shot of some of its teeming hordes of excess Blacks, is noted for Sun City. This is a luxurious gambling and sporting centre run by one Sol Kerzner where degenerate South African White perverts can indulge their desires to copulate with Negroids, a sexual deviation banned in South Africa proper.

Most of the Black females involved are of course prostitutes, and it is with a certain grim satisfaction that we report that they often infect their 'Negrophiliac' customers with a particularly virulent and drug-resistant type of VD. That Kerzner has become a millionaire pandering to the inter-racial lusts of rich liberal White South Africans indicates an alarming degree of decadence and bodes ill for the Republic's long-term survival prospects. They will probably end up buggering baboons.

Jews use our troops

BRITISH soldiers may soon be dying in a multi-national "Defend Israel" force. The cost of maintaining a vast army of occupation to keep the dispossessed Palestinians under control is a massive burden on Israel's corrupt and collapsing economy.

The Jewish government has therefore agreed to withdraw its troops from part of the Egyptian Sinai. They will be replaced by a joint peacekeeping force from countries in Western Europe.

So British troops and taxpayers' money are to be used defending illegal Zionist settlements on stolen Arab land.

Our soldiers will be at constant risk from unexploded mines and the possibility of renewed fighting. Furthermore, the sight of Britain and other Western nations doing the Jews' dirty work can only help to push the Arabs towards the Soviet Union, leading to even more instability in the area often described as "the short fuse to World War Three".

STEVE BRADY

THE THREAT OF THE MULTINATIONALS

FIVE HUNDRED multinational corporations, many of them linked together by reciprocal shareholdings and shadowy 'holding companies', control over half of the World's trade. This vast concentration of economic power threatens Britain's economic, national and racial future. It enables the multinationals to extort exorbitant prices for vital import commodities, to undercut British workers in manufactured goods we can produce here, to cheat our country of taxes, and to swamp our land with cheap Coloured labour.

The extent of multinational control, especially of tropical crops we import to this country is enormous. For example: 15 multinationals own 85% of the cotton traded in the World; 5 own 75% of World's cocoa crop; 6 control 85% of global tobacco sales. Over two thirds of the World's supply of agricultural fertilizer comes from sixteen multinationals, and over three-quarters of the global agricultural machinery is sold by just three.

VAST PROFITS

The situation in the cotton industry illustrates how the multinationals squeeze vast profits out of rackets for which we, the British consumers, have to pay in higher prices. The people who actually grow the cotton get little of the money for it – of the cash you pay for a pair of jeans, only 6% goes to the plantation owner. But the multinationals grab a staggering 42% of your money in profit! Much of the profit comes from rackets like the "futures market": the 15 cotton multinationals don't buy and sell the actual cotton but "futures" – contracts to deliver the cotton at some time in the future. This enables them to sell the same bale of cotton over and over again. For example, in a typical year, 1975-76, four thousand million U.S. dollars' worth of Western cotton was actually grown, but 24,445 thousand million U.S. dollars' worth of futures in the same crop were traded. So each bale of cotton was sold by its multinational owners at least six times. And each sale of the same bale clocks up more profit for the multinationals.

In addition, the 15 multinationals controlling the cotton trade make sure that its price fluctuates between 40 cents and one American dollar a pound as required, realizing even further huge profits by speculation, again without actually producing more of the goods involved.

TAX-DODGERS

Antics like these earn profits for the multinationals greater than the gross national products of most of the World's countries. But their subsidiaries in Britain and other Western countries pay very little of these ill-gotten gains in tax to their hosts. They dodge our taxes by making sure that their subsidiaries in low-tax countries register nearly all the profits made by the multinational as a whole whilst British and other high-tax-country subsidiaries "manage to make" hardly any profit, or even a loss, and so are not liable for much tax. In effect, the international plutocrats shift their lolly from one hand within the reach of the Western taxman to the other, out of that reach. Our example, the fifteen cotton multinationals, fiddled their way out of an estimated £250 million in tax in the late 1970's in this way.

But it is in the field of manufactured goods that the multinationals hit the British worker hardest. For, unlike national firms tied to their home country, multinationals can move their assembly plants, and hence jobs, wherever labour is cheapest and conditions most profitable. Then they can use that cheap labour to undercut our workers, flooding our home market with cheap goods and putting our competing plants on the dole.

DIRT-CHEAP

This is just what is happening. More and more of the routine assembly work in industries like electronics is being done in 'Free Trade Zones' provided by coffee-coloured 'Third World' countries in the Far East, Latin America, Asia and Africa. These 'Zones' provide incentives and low taxes to multinationals setting up plants there provided they export all they produce. They also provide a dirt-cheap, mainly female workforce, prepared to work long hours, in appalling conditions, for low pay at boring jobs.

For example the women in a typical factory in the Bataan Free Trade Zone in the Philippines work from 6a.m. to 10p.m. six days a week, and from 6a.m. to 6p.m. on Sundays, sometimes being forced to work three days and two nights running by being locked in their factory. Wages such as £13 a month in Ceylon are common. Trade Unions are generally illegal.

Of course, White workers would never stand for this. But as one Dunlop plant manager in the Philippines said of his workforce: "Their mental age is probably lower than in Europe." So the multinationals are cashing in. For example, silicon wafers are being made in the U.S., air-freighted to 'Free Trade Zones' in Malaysia and the Philippines for bonding and then flown back to America for assembly in automated factories. The cheap sweat-shops of the Orient which ruined the Lancashire textile mills in the twenties and thirties are now ruining all the manufacturing industries of the West, in the service of the profits of the multi-nationals.

BLACKS HIRED -- WHITES FIRED

Even bigger profits can be made if the cheap Coloured labour is actually moved into the consumer countries. So multinationals are encouraging Coloured Immigration into White countries and promoting multiracialism to keep their cheap labour here. In Britain, Coloured Immigrants in certain industries, such as textiles, have so undercut Whites by their willingness to work long hours for low pay in bad conditions that multinationals are gleefully finding our labour costs "the cheapest in the developed world". And three million, mostly Whites, rot on the British dole.

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the country that gives me the best deal..."

BLOODSUCKERS

In the short term, we can drive out these multinational bloodsuckers by putting their British subsidiaries under native ownership, sending their cheap Coloured labour here back to their own countries, and preventing their cheap Coloured labour abroad from undercutting our workers by introducing rigorous import controls.

But in the long term, if that is all we do, the multinationals will return. For multinational Capitalists were all national Capitalists once. Multinational corporations are an inevitable product of the Capitalist system, with its Stock Exchanges and its shareholdings, just as maggots are of a dungheap.

We must clean out the dungheap, smash Capitalism itself, and hand our industries over to those who work in them. And we must help other countries do the same, so that in return for the raw materials we need, they get not multinational exploitation but the manufactured goods they need in fair exchange.

QUOTE...

"The main mark of modern governments is that we do not know who governs, de facto any more than de jure. We see the politician and not his backer; still less the backer of the backer; or, what is most important of all, the banker of the backer. Throned above all, in a manner without parallel in all the past, is the veiled prophet of finance, swaying all men living by a sort of magic."

– G. K. Chesterton.

National Front Trade Unionism

THE NATIONAL FRONT has committed itself to the creation of an N.F. trade unionists' organisation. This is confirmation of the Party's determination to broaden and deepen its ideological foundations and make a complete break with the kind of sterile, reactionary dogma that has bedevilled nationalist politics in Britain for too long.

There have been several attempts in the past to establish a National Front trade union group, but these have had only a shortlived success, partly due to splits in the Party itself and partly because the Party lacked a clear ideological commitment to trade unionism as a legitimate part of the social structure of our country. Now that the Party has repudiated reaction, we are in a position at last to take on the important task of developing a trade union section of the National Front.

However, we must first of all make it clear that the National Front is not involving itself with trade unions in order to infiltrate and destroy them. Far from it! A large number of N.F. members are already trade unionists and it would be absurd and deceitful for anyone to accuse them of "infiltration", although, on the other hand, we must vigorously encourage others who are not yet members of a union to join as soon as possible. However hostile certain unions may be to the National Front and no matter how objectionable certain trade union officials may be, the N.F. must not turn its back on the unions. To do so simply means quitting the field to the opposition.

REAL WRECKERS

As for the accusation (which is certain to be levelled against us by our opponents) that the National Front's trade unionist section is merely there to wreck the unions "on behalf of the bosses", we must show vigorously, by our own commitment to legitimate trade union activity, that this is not so. Our objective must be, not to weaken the unions, but to strengthen them, and to cleanse them of the real wreckers, those Marxist elements that are merely using the unions for their own political objectives. We must show that the real enemies of trade unionists everywhere are the Reds and that free trade unions can only exist and prosper effectively within a White Workers' State.

One of the first tasks of the National Front trade unionists' group must be to build up a nation-wide organization. National Front members must be actively encouraged to involve themselves in their unions and, where possible, to stand for office. We already have a number of shop stewards and various trade union officials within the Party, elected into office as known National Front members. Our task must be to encourage more members to follow suit.

DETERMINED ATTACK

Obviously, once it is seen that the National Front is starting to gain ground in the unions we must expect to face a substained and determined attack by the present trade union leadership, which will correctly see its grip on the unions being threatened by us. For this reason it is imperative that we develop our organization into a co-ordinated and effective body as quickly as possible so that we can mobilise to defend any of our members persecuted by the union bosses because of their political commitments. Although many trade unionists pay little attention to union activities most of the time, it would not be difficult to activate trade unionists, whether National Front supporters or not, to defend N.F. members attacked by their union for their politics. This has already happened once within the National Union of Railwaymen when, a few years ago, the NUR Executive announced its intention to expel all N.F. members from the union. Since British Rail operates a closed shop this would have automatically meant the loss of their jobs. This was quite obviously too much for most NUR members in the areas concerned and, incensed at this blatant political persecution, they successfully quashed this attempt through the threat of industrial action against their own union. What has happened once can happen again.

APATHY

One thing which must be constantly borne in mind is that it is not our purpose to awaken the slumbering "moderate majority" in the unions whose apathy and lack of involvement at branch level has allowed the Reds to dominate their local and regional committees over the years. We are not interested in stirring up sufficient numbers of these people in order merely to get "moderates" elected into office instead of the extreme left. "Rightwing" Labourites and the SDP or Tories are no more attractive so far as we are concerned than the extreme left. Our efforts must be concentrated not on helping the "middle-ground" get control of the unions, but on wresting control of the unions for ourselves. One National Front trade union official is worth far more to us and the ordinary workers than any number of "moderates", who have sold out in the past and will do so again in the future.

MULTINATIONAL BOSSES

It was the moderates who allied themselves with the multinational bosses and the Blacks against the White Workers of Imperial Typewriters. The N.F. stood up for the Whites.

It is the moderates who have encouraged immigration, in spite of the fact that the Blacks were brought here to undercut our wages. Only the N.F. has consistently opposed the Coloured Immigration which has done so much to weaken British trade unionism.

It is the time-serving moderates with their fat salaries and seats in the Lords, who have tied-up union pension funds in Big Business so that the workers have no choice but to fall in line with the status quo.

REVOLUTIONARY CHANGE

Instead of tinkering within the present system, our aim is to smash collapsing capitalism. Industrial ownership must be handed to the workers and managers themselves with Workers' co-operatives and decentralized small business playing a vital role. The financial system must be totally reconstructed to end unemployment and give the workers the purchasing power to buy the products of their own labour.

Through rallies organized by the National Front trade unionists, through factory gate leafletings, through the publication of bulletins and a regular trade unionists' newssheet by the N.F., and through letters to the press, we must ensure that this message to trade unionists throughout the country is heard: there is only one Party for British trade unionists to ally themselves with, and that is the National Front.

JOE PEARCE: PORTRAIT OF A REVOLUTIONARY

Joe Pearce, 20 year-old founding editor of Nationalism Today, is now serving a six month jail sentence for breaking the Race Act in the hardhitting Y.N.F. paper Bulldog. In this special feature we pay tribute to Joe's courage and highlight his leading role in recent ideological and organizational improvements within the National Front.

JOE PEARCE joined the National Front in 1976. The young East Ender had learned the hard way about the evils of multi-racialism and was already prepared to stand up for his race and nation. He quickly became a key activist in his local Barking Branch, but it was soon clear that his talents and drive would take him further than that.

The N.F. was by now beginning to recruit large numbers of militant White working-class youths and Joe started a duplicated newsheet for free distribution to youngsters in the East End. By the third issue, Jo Richardson, Red Labour M.P. for Barking was demanding that Bulldog should be banned and Joe prosecuted.

Joe stood up to the threats and barrage of hostile propaganda and took advantage of the enormous amount of publicity to make Bulldog a national publication.

PRINCIPLE

Since that day, Bulldog has gone from strength to strength. Its circulation and influence have risen steadily, driving the Race Traitors frantic. It soon became obvious that they would stop at nothing to silence Joe, yet, on a matter of principle, he challenged the Establishment and willingly went to prison.

After the first warnings from the Community Relations Police, Joe could easily have backed down. Instead, he taunted the Race Traitors and stepped up his attacks on their tottering multi-racial society. Joe knew perfectly well that his resolute stand for the British people had put him directly on the road to jail, but he never wavered, was never tempted to turn back.

Neither did he go too far, so as to lose the sympathy of the ordinary public. For over two years, Bulldog kept on the very edges of the Race Laws. Joe's judgement was so good that David Lane and the Director of Public Prosecutions thought that he was getting expert legal advice on what he could get away with.

BORN LEADER

But Joe is not the sort of propagandist who stirs people up and leaves the action to them. He has never asked ordinary members to do anything that he wouldn't do himself. Joe Pearce is a born leader, in the real sense of the word. He always leads from the front.

The National Front is a movement of the streets and Joe has always been a street activist. In 1979 he received a heavy fine after an attack on a I.R.A. march in Hyde Park.

Shortly after that, a communist attempt to smash up an N.F. paper sale in Barking led to several of the Reds ending up in hospital and Joe facing trial on ABH charge. Not long after he was declared "Not Guilty", Joe was again arrested with more than 20 of his comrades in an attack on Red and Asian supporters of a Republican "Troops Out" march in Central London.

IDEALIST

Joe's record shows him to be a man of action, but there is more to him than that. He is a brilliant writer, not just of "gut-issue" propaganda, but also of thought-provoking ideological articles. Joe Pearce is just as at home in the realm of ideas and political theory as he is on the streets.

An avid reader, Joe has been influenced by a wide range of authors: the patriotic early British Socialist Bob Blatchford; the Distributist G. K. Chesterton, and the German radicals Otto and Gregor Strasser, as well as the more common range of Nationalist Books. Out of these and his own views, Joe has synthesised the coherent ideology and vision of a saving revolution based on the traditions of our Nation and Race, best described as Radical Nationalism.

Joe Pearce was one of the founding editors of Nationalism Today and his commitment to the cause of National Revolution has been nowhere better expressed than in the pages of N.T.

ENTHUSIASTIC

In the very first issue, Joe's article "Nationalism: Moving Forward into the 1980's" made a number of proposals on the need to articulate a coherent ideology, to campaign in the unions and to develop a sense of comradeship between our activists and militants. These proposals were soon put into concrete form in Joe's idea of an N.F. 5 Year Plan, a programme for the strengthening of the Party which was enthusiastically endorsed at the 1980 A.G.M.

Once the call for ideological development had been made, Joe himself made a number of important contributions to the process.

NEW GROUND

His article on "Industrial Ownership in a Racial Nationalist Society" was first presented to Joe's colleagues in the N.F. Policy Department, then printed in N.T. No. 6.

This broke new ground by pointing out that the N.F.'s principle that no sectional interest should be in a position to threaten the sovereignty of the national government applies to British Capitalists, as well as to multi-nationals. We should therefore dismantle completely the present ownership structure of British industry.

In order to extend the profit motive and the ownership of property to all Britons, industry and commerce should be broken up into small family businesses and workers co-ops. Financial institutions and heavy industry, where this would be impractical, should be nationalised.

REJECTING REACTION

Joe rejected reactionary criticism of these demands. In "A Definition of Capitalism" in N.T. No. 4, he pointed out that Capitalism is NOT a system which favours individuals' initiative and enterprise. In fact, it is very SIMILAR to Communism: both are grossly materialistic; against tradition and the family; support internationalism and race-mixing, and end up with political and economic power concentrated in the hands of a few immensely powerful people.

This understanding has led Joe to reject all brands of Reaction, as represented by the likes of Thatcher, Hitler and Tyndall. Joe views the National Front as a revolutionary force, whose aim is to destroy both Capitalism and its Communist twin.

VISION

It is this determination to smash the corrupt old system that has put Joe in prison. It is his vision of the Racial Nationalist state which will sustain Joe throughout his months in prison, and in his renewed struggle after his release.

Joe Pearce has been attacked as a "race-hater", a "troublemaker" and even a "Bolshevik". He is none of these. Joe is simply a dedicated resistance fighter for our people, with a burning vision of a proud, White Britain, united under the banner of National Freedom and Social Justice.

But if there was hope, it lay in the proles.

THE RETURN OF THE WARRIOR

Skinheads: Warriors of the White Race.

IN the 1920s and 30s youth was in the forefront of those revolutionary movements of national regeneration which swept across Europe, combatting both the reactionaries of the Old Order and the shysters of international Marxism.

Since the Second World War, however, that enduring alliance of Capitalism and Communism has used its joint domination of the mass media to steer any youth revolt in an internationalist direction. Big Business owners and Trotskyite hacks may not see eye to eye, but they are quite capable of collaborating against the rise of any 'Third Force'.

This cosy set-up has now been totally upset, for mass Coloured Immigration has provoked a youth revolt that is stridently Nationalist and Racialist. Of all the developments which might herald the resurgence of a healthy national and racial ethnocentricism, this youth revolt – which takes form in the 'skinhead' cult – is one of the most significant and encouraging signs.

In contrast to the largely middle-class students and trendies who were the hippies of the 1960s, the 'skins' are a working-class phenomenon, and wear a uniform of short-cropped hair and big boots. Their appearance is military and militant.

Physical prowess and toughness are recognised qualities, as they should be in a society which faces the realities of the struggle for life.

Skinheads display attitudes which are complete anathema to the fashionable fiction of multiracial brotherhood in which the ruling Establishment has such a big stake.

WHITE WORKING CLASS

It is, of course, the White working class which finds itself in the front line. According to a recent report the most likely victim of Black muggers is not the little old lady, but the young White male. Such attacks are not carried out purely for the motive of financial gain, but are race hate attacks.

Despite its tough image the skinhead cult is not all brawn and no brain. It is not a movement of mindless yahoos, but is deeply and actively politicised.

Skinheads have absorbed the cynicism of a society without ideals, and have turned that cynicism against its very instigators and perpetrators.

This process has been fuelled by youth unemployment. The psychological effects of unemployment fall more heavily on the young who never get a job than on older people thrown out of work.

But socio-economic factors do not provide the main motivation for disaffection or the subject of its rallying cries. That motivation comes from the instinctive resentment provoked by seeing their country turned into a dustbin for the world's trash. It is a situation over which they – more than anybody else – were never consulted, but with which they are expected to live.

Just as sections of the student population provide Marxism with a social base, skinheads provide the cause of Racial-Nationalism with a mass base, and, indeed, a ready-made army.

It is no wonder that the skinhead revolt has occurred, but it enjoys no sympathy, of course, from any part of the Establishment. The self-same journalistic hacks who display such empathy for the denizens of the Third World, and who strive to 'understand' and 'make excuses for' the Black mugger, treat the White skin with universal fear, hatred and contempt.

MASS MOVEMENT

In their eagerness to condemn skinheads as a nasty minority of violent thugs, these effete ink-slingers seem to ignore the fact that the cult is today a mass movement amongst Britain's White working-class youth, and that it numbers in its ranks the sons (and daughters) of the journalists' own readers!

Skinheads share many of the attitudes of their parents, but with the difference that they do not have the old political loyalties of their parents, and they are also willing to act.

Patriotism still exists amongst the working class, and the fact that journalists despise it shows the gulf that exists between these self-appointed tribunes of the people and the people themselves. For all their theoretical egalitarianism, one constantly detects a sneering social snobbery in the attacks made by journalists on working-class Racialists.

Bourgeois hacks will spill volumes of ink on the 'meaningfulness' of some trendy theatrical group, but they cannot conceive of a spontaneous working class initiative. The real voice of the working-class is, for these middle-class theorists, a 'false consciousness' which does not fit their Marxist misconceptions of what the working-class ought to be thinking.

TRIBAL ASSERTIVENESS

Hostility to skinheads is shared by other arms of the ruling Establishment such as the police, who harass them on sight purely because of the shortness of their hair and the way that they dress.

Like other cults which promote horizontal loyalty rather than vertical obedience, the skinhead cult is a phenomenon that makes all forms of established authority profoundly uncomfortable.

Rulers may not command the respect of all their citizens, but they do at least like to command a monopoly of armed force. Skinheads have their own code, their own morality, their own sense of right and wrong, but – more than that – they have the psychological willingness to resort to force in situations where others would hold back.

The skinhead cult is a cult of tribal assertiveness. Like all armies it presents a nihilistic image to its opponents, who will inevitably shrink in horror. Others will recognize that ancient barbaric qualities are just what our effete, over-civilized and self-abasing society needs in order to revitalize it and steel it for the coming struggle for survival.

Britain is a sick society in crisis. The skinhead revolt is a natural and inevitable development: it is the return of the warrior.

DEREK HOLLAND

LAND FOR THE PEOPLE!

A RECENT issue of NT saw the publication of an important article by Joe Pearce entitled The Ownership of British Industry. The purpose of the article was to outline briefly the NF's plans for the restructuring of British industry and it was completely successful. However, it would be wrong for us as a Party to concentrate merely on industrial reformation, since Britain is also an agricultural nation. History has shown conclusively that all genuinely prosperous communities have been built upon a solid agrarian foundation; any attempts to alter this order of priority has inevitably led to calamity and collapse. Nature speaks decisively: Agriculture comes first!

EVIL CREED

The harmful effects of Capitalism on industry has been well documented, but less intensive has been the documentation of the evil that this creed has wrought on agriculture.

In his classic work, The Servile State, Hilaire Belloc convincingly demonstrated that the Middle Ages had witnessed the evolution of what he termed the "Distributist Society". He showed that the Middle Ages understood clearly that wealth was power and in consequence diffused wealth resulted in diffused power.

The practical effect of this philosophy was the emergence of a society where property (essentially land) was divided amongst individuals and families in such way that no one section of society could effectively dominate another. Of course, it is a fact of life that we live in an imperfect world and this meant that this socio-economic system did have its iniquities, but it was progressing in a fundamentally correct direction – a direction that would ultimately have given all our people a slice of the national cake.

This developing balance was wrecked by the birth of the Capitalist ethic which maintained that "competition was healthy". Competition for the Capitalist however did not signify that intended by the medieval Guild system, whereby an attempt was made to balance the objectives and desires of both the individual and of society as a whole, but rather a view of competition which held it to be a self-evident truth that the "more enterprising and successful" should get ahead and not be hidebound by restrictive rules and regulations. A consequence of this immoral logic was the formulation of the idea that what was good for business, was good for the nation – a sick and sterile slogan still used to this day by Capitalists anxious to justify their greed for profit.

PROLETARIAT

The development of Capitalism from the time of the Reformation led to the progressive dispossession of the peasantry who made up the vast bulk of the nation's population, and this process was hastened by the combined impact of the Enclosures movement (which worked to the advantage of landed capital) and the confiscation of Church lands by Henry VIII which rapidly found their way into the hands of rising Capitalists.

Such developments, in conjunction with the "Industrial Revolution" gave birth to a new class of people: the proletariat. The proletariat were and are a rootless, propertyless and economically insecure class that are chronically exposed to the political and economic exploitation of an unscrupulous Big Business.

Today, the vast majority of our people are dispossessed, dependent for their employment and housing, welfare and even food and drink on the High Priests of Capitalism. Since Britons cannot even provide the basic necessities of life for themselves, it is true to say that we live under a greater yoke of oppression than any peasant ever suffered under Feudal Barony.

GENUINE ALTERNATIVE

Such a situation is clearly undesirable since it is one that only ultimately satisfies the unfathomable avarice of the monopoly Capitalist. It is our duty therefore, as British Nationalists, to expound a doctrine that the British people will recognise as a genuine alternative to the sister philosophies of Capitalism and Communism.

This doctrine, Distributism, embodies the concepts and principles of Lymington, Belloc, Fahey and G. K. Chesterton and is particularly relevant to our own impoverished time.

Capitalism has been an unmitigated disaster for British agriculture and has threatened the very life blood of our Race, Nation and Culture. In its quest for profit, Big Business has employed criminal "farming" techniques – consistent overcropping, inappropriate mechanization and the indiscriminate application of poorly researched pesticides. The result has been the destruction of the quality and fertility of the soil and the production of poor quality food.

The crux of Nationalist ideology is the concept of sovereignty, yet if we as a nation cannot sustain our people with abundant, quality foodstuffs, can we really be considered a sovereign people? Whilst it is one thing to accept the limited importation of luxury foodstuffs like tropical fruits, it is another to maintain that the importation of basic foodstuffs is healthy and desirable.

The NF declares therefore that agricultural self-sufficiency is cardinal to our concept of national sovereignty and that this can only become a reality by the exertion of our sovereignty over the ownership of our lands. This, we can only do by the complete expropriation of land at present held by multi-national corporations, merchant banks, investors' syndicates and all other Capitalist concerns. Whilst we shall safeguard the individual shareholders' interest, we shall see to it that the Capitalist nation-killers receive their just rewards.

The confiscation of lands however will not in itself greatly improve the position of British agriculture, unless we institute an equitable redistribution of this land to its real owners – the British people. Any attempt to take such lands into public ownership, as advocated by myopic Socialists, would merely replace one cosy elite of Capitalists with another cosy elite made up of Socialist Party Bosses.

The only answer to the recurrent dilemma of ownership is to create an economic structure, which, mindful of human greed, answers the needs of all our people and which in consequence will produce a concensus to maintain the socio-economic status quo.

DUTY BOUND

In respect of the agricultural sphere of our economy, it will be incumbent on a future NF government to create that agricultural yeomanry that is so essential to our national regeneration. The land of the UK remember is the heritage of all our people, the present owners merely being the stewards of such land for later generations. We are duty bound to hand down this land in a fit condition for the sustenance of our people – a duty because as racialists we are conscious of our racial and spiritual link not only to our ancestors but also to our descendants.

To bring this about, it will be necessary to create a Ministry of Agriculture whose objective will be to renovate totally our agrarian system and not merely to tinker with details, within the Capitalist framework as does the present Ministry.

Central to the creation of such a Ministry will be the assembling of a body of men, ideologically and technically competent, who will be able to speak with authority on agricultural matters. Too often are Ministers captives of Civil Service mandarins simply because they have little or no knowledge of the work undertaken by the Ministry that has been entrusted to them.

The new Ministry will determine how much land is available for redistribution, calculate how many acres of land will support an "average" family (taking into account regional variations of soil, fertility etc.) and consequently how many Britons may return to the land. The return to the land will, of course, be purely voluntary, but this author believes that British people are so heartily fed up with city life that there will be such a rush to pastures new that it will be necessary to introduce panel selection whereby an individual's fitness (mental, physical and moral) to cultivate land will have to be assessed.

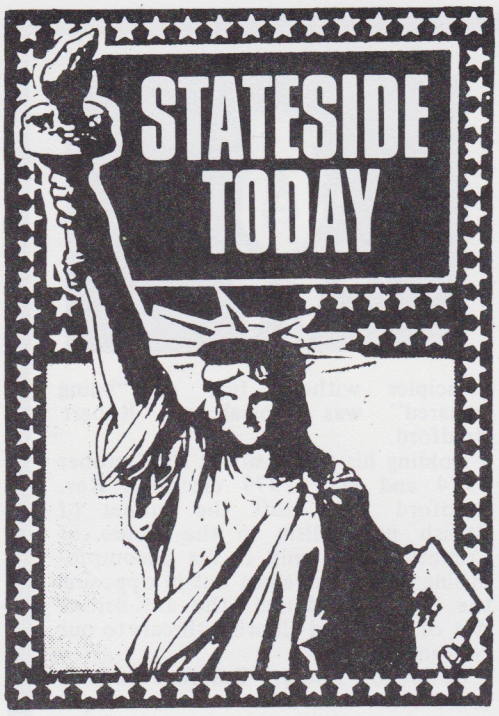
SOUND FARMING

For the system to work, the Ministry will have to appoint Agricultural Boards in the Regions and localities of the country to supervise not only redistribution, but also to "reteach" those sound farming traditions that have been largely abandoned by the farmer in his struggle to fend off the attacks of the Capitalist and the Usurer.

Such boards will offer advice (or in some cases prescribe) on the maintenance of the soil, woodlands and hedgerows and will additionally have the power (subject to an Agricultural Appeal Court) to dispossess a family of their farm should they consistently ignore directives over a period of years as regards the care of the land. This does not mean that people will be easily divested of their land; legal mechanisms open to one and all (irrespective of financial standing) will be available for redress of any abuse of power, but the national government will severely punish any abuse of land privilege for individual, personal gain.

There will also be introduced anti-monopolies laws to prevent massive land accumulations that could lead to a rebirth of Capitalism. There will also be enacted a legal provision whereby the sole source of financial remuneration for all government agricultural experts and advisers will be the Crown. We will not tolerate on the part of such persons, any financial, commercial or agrarian involvement which could possibly compromise their position. In this way, we shall restrict as far as possible the leeway for corruption that is endemic to the human species.

The scope of this article precludes any in depth analysis of the mechanism and principles of agrarian Distributism, but it is this writer's belief (and the NF's) that millions of people producing the basic necessities of life for themselves will prove to be the surest way of creating not only an economically prosperous Britain, but also of preserving our traditional liberties from the encroachments of the twin headed serpent of Capitalism and Communism.



Roots: "FICTION NOT FACT"

TWO Black researchers say that Alex Haley's best-selling book Roots is more fiction than fact and "fails every genealogical test".

Dr. Gary Mills, a professor of Southern and Black history at the University of Alabama, in the United States, and his wife, Elizabeth Snow Mills, a genealogist, spent four years retracing the genealogy of the Haley family as set forth in the book Roots and the television series of the same name.

In an article in the April, 1981 Virginia Magazine of History and Biography, they said their research produced "disappointing results".

The researchers discovered, for example, that Tom Lea of Caswell County, North Carolina, never owned slaves named Kizzie or Chicken George or slaves by any of the names that appear in Haley's book.

MAJOR SCANDAL

Through tax records, wills and property inventories, they analyzed the growth of Lea's slave household from his marriage in 1801, until his death 45 years later.

The only slave Lea owned in 1806, when Kizzie allegedly gave birth to Chicken George, was a "girl Rachel".

Also, the investigators found that William Waller, of Spotsylvania County, Virginia, never owned Kizzie or the other slaves attributed to him in Roots.

This is the second major scandal which has discredited Haley's anti-White work.

In 1978, Haley paid 650,000 dollars to the Jewish novelist Harold Courlander in an out-of-court settlement, after Courlander brought a suit against Haley.

The suit charged that Haley had plagiarized over 80 passages from Courlander's completely fictious novel The African and included them in the supposedly true-life Roots!

VISA INSULT

THE recent refusal by the U.S. Government of a 'visa' allowing democratically elected leader of Ulster Rev. Dr. Paisley into their country highlights the insulting and offhand treatment meted out by the U.S. to its faithful NATO ally and lapdog Britain.

Whilst loud-mouthed New York Jews are free to pour into Britain every summer, to crawl all over the sacred monuments of our nationhood, leaving chewing gum on the tombs of our kings and financing a rash of garish hamburger 'joints' in the birthplace of our greatest playwright, Britons wishing to visit the 'Land of the Free' have to apply on bended knee for a 'visa'. The citizens of our country, and of other White nations, must fill out a lengthy form, full of insulting and personal questions before being allowed to enter the U.S.

MISSILE BASES

Meanwhile, apart from its annual horde of ignorant, gawking, camera-clicking "Gee, Manny, is that a gen-yoo-ine Olde Englishe church?" bleating tourists, the Yanks also feel free to splatter our countryside with their atomic missile bases and our country towns with their jabbering Negroid so-called Armed Forces. The drugged-up Black naval ratings who regularly riot in the Scottish port of Dunoon need no 'visa' to rampage through our streets.

FURTHER INSULT

As a further insult, the citizens of Boston, Massachusetts, recently passed a municipal ballot calling for the "withdrawal of all English (sic) military forces from Northern Ireland". Boston is a major source of money and weapons for the Provisional IRA terror gang. But the elected leader of British Ulster is "not acceptable" in America.

So it seems Britons are good enough to die for Capitalist America if they need us as a missile launch-pad in their war against Communist Russia. But we aren't good enough to enter their country to counter anti-British lies. Never mind, the NF is committed to pulling out of NATO and slinging the Yank bomb bases out of our country. It will be good riddance to bad rubbish!

Wallace Crawls

AT a recent meeting of the racially mixed Baptist Public Relations Association in Birmingham, Alabama, ex-Governor George C. Wallace announced that he has asked for divine forgiveness for aligning himself with White segregationists during his days as a powerful Southern politician.

The former 'Great White Hope' of conservative U.S. racialists said that those who use the Bible to support their stand for racial separation are "deadly wrong". He added: "You cannot enter the Kingdom of God holding animosity toward another person ... You should be ready to go at any moment by surrendering your heart to Jesus Christ and asking him to forgive you." Just shows you can't trust a conservative!

Reverend Robert Bradford

REV. ROBERT BRADFORD, the Ulster Loyalist M.P. for South Belfast murdered by I.R.A. terrorists, was not just a staunch patriot and a hard worker for the people of his constituency, especially the elderly and infirm. He was also the only Member of the House of Commons to publically come out in support of the National Front.

Rev. Bradford welcomed the hard work put into his victorious campaign in the February 1974 General Election by the then Belfast Group of the NF. After he won the seat for the first time at that election, he personally thanked the NF Belfast Group Committee and activists for this help.

In August of that year he accepted an invitation to address the rally following the September 7th anti-IRA march through Central London by the National Front. In the event, a long promised preaching tour in the Southern States of America intervened to prevent him becoming the first sitting M.P. to stand on an NF platform. But Rev. Bradford made clear his total support for the NF in its uncompromising fight against Irish Republicanism by sending instead an open letter backing the NF and apologising for his absence, which was read out at the NF rally. Such a demonstration of a willingness to stand by his friends and his principles without fear of "being smeared" was typical of Robert Bradford.

Holding his seat easily at the October 1974 and May 1979 elections, Rev. Bradford held aloft the banner of British nationalism in the House of Commons not only in his uncompromising Ulster Loyalism but in opposing the Common Market, the anti-British Act of 1976 and all other threats to our Nation and Race.

Reverend Robert Bradford was a brave man, who knew he was a major target for the Communist scum of the Provisional IRA and yet did not flinch from doing his duty to his country. His gunning down in cold blood in front of a hall full of children is typical of the IRA, who always prefer to fight women, children and unarmed men, and who run like the rats they are when there is any danger their targets may shoot back.

We in the NF salute a fallen comrade, a fighter in the common struggle for Britain. We extend our heartfelt condolences to his widow, Norah, and his little daughter, Clare, aged six. And we pledge ourselves most solemnly to avenge Robert Bradford, and all the others murdered by Irish Republican terrorism.

RACE TRAITORS LAMENT

David Lane

Tell me Mr. Lane,
When all is said and done,
Is there really satisfaction
In your multi-racial slum?
What pleasures are derived?
What goal will you attain?
You'll earn a place in infamy,
A traitor, Mr. Lane!

Tell me Mr. Lane,
With the Blacks about your knees,
Would you really want to drown us
In some angry Negro sea?
Or perhaps you would prefer,
Some Asians from the boats,
To slip behind our backs,
And slit our British throats!

Tell me Mr. Lane,
With a rope around your neck,
Not put there by us
But your "friends" instead.
Did you really think they'd let you go?
Did you really hope they'd spare your life?
How silly Mr. Lane,
To forget that you are White!

ANOTHER VIEW OF DR. STRASSER

In view of some adverse comments that have been published recently about the Strasser brothers, there are certain facts about Dr. Otto Strasser which this journal believes should be placed on record.

Otto Strasser has been criticised for his radical economic views — he left the National Socialist Party before it attained power firmly convinced that Hitler was prepared to sacrifice the "left-wing" economic policies of his movement in order to secure the support of German industrialists and land-owners — and for subsequently directing a small propaganda campaign against the German dictator. Anyone who has read Douglas Reed's sympathetic portrait of Strasser in the book Nemesis must surely appreciate that there is much in his platform that provides a fruitful source for patriots today seeking to articulate a coherent economic and social doctrine which stands equally apart from the laissez-faire policies of free-market capitalism and the drab collectivism of Marxist socialism. As for any complaint about Strasser's activities against Hitler, it might seem strange to those of us who count ourselves as British nationalists that loyalty to Hitler should be recommended as the true measure of a man! Who can fail to be surprised that he took the action he did in view of the fact that the Nazi leader murdered his brother Gregor and placed a million marks on his own head?

For years after the war, Dr. Strasser was subject to persecution because of his expert knowledge of the international financial set-up and his desire to expose it. Indeed, for ten years the Canadian, U.S., British and German governments were in a conspiracy to keep him from his native land. A. K. Chesterton, who was a personal friend of Strasser, regarded him as a greatly-wronged man. He wrote this about him in 1954: "He has denounced International Jewish Finance and its incessant striving to enslave mankind either through Debt or through Communism. That is his major wickedness. His lesser, but still considerable, sin lies in the fact that, while deploring every Nazi abomination, he has torn to tatters the legend of the six million Jews done to death in gas-chambers by proving that only a small fraction of that number were ever in Hitler's power." There could scarcely be more convincing evidence of the worth of many of Dr. Strasser's views.

Trouble shooting

DEUTSCH HERRENVOLK?

ANOTHER deeply "anti-Jewish" Trouble-shooting, I fear.

You know – or at least, you ought to know, for I have often told you so – that the Race Relations Act found itself on the Statute Books on account of Jewish pressure. To be more precise, the Race Relations Bill became an Act mainly as a result of the premier Zionist-Jewish organisation in Britain: The Board of Deputies of British Jews.

The first draft of the Bill was prepared by a committee of Jewish lawyers and Parliamentarians set up by the Board. The inspiration for this move came from the Board's equivalent organisation in the United States – the Anti-Defamation League of the B'nai B'rith. From the 1950's onwards, if not decades earlier, the A.D.L. had been campaigning to get the Free Speech sections of America's Constitution changed by an Amendment which sought to enshrine the concept of "Group Libel". It was because of this that when the Board of Deputies' draftsmen had done their work, the first editions of the resultant document that were touted around the Palace of Westminster, Whitehall and Fleet Street during the late 1950's and early 1960's were referred to as the draft for a "Group Libel law".

All major amendments to the Act – not least the amendment which made it easier to get convictions against "racialists" by relieving the Crown of the obligation to prove "intent" in prosecutions for "Incitement to Racial Hatred" – have likewise been instigated by the Board of Deputies.

The Board was not content with just launching the Act – the Act had to be made to work the way that it was intended (by the Jews) to work. Thus Jews had to get to hold key positions in the Orwellian structure known as the "Race Relations Industry". The National Front has already given publicity to the Jewish community activist and Board of Deputies contact man Neville Nagler, who somehow or other has come to be appointed head of the Home Office's Race Relations Department and who, in that post, drafts all speeches made by Cabinet Ministers on the subject of race relations.

Another key Race Industry operative in regular liaison with the Board of Deputies is Francis Deutsch. He is the head of the Legal Department of the Commission for Racial Equality (the 'quango' set up under the terms of the Race Relations Act and which used to be known as the Race Relations Board). His job is to advise the Commission on the "anti-discrimination" legal actions it pursues on behalf of Immigrants in the Civil courts, to maintain a liaison between the Commission and the firm of Solicitors which acts for it (Bindman & Co.!) and to press the Attorney-General to authorise prosecution in the Criminal courts of persons alleged to have broken the "Incitement to Hatred" section of the Act.

"EVIDENCE"

In regard to this latter role it was formal complaints from Deutsch which led to the Race Act prosecution against myself at Kingston Crown Court in October 1979 and against Joe Pearce at the Old Bailey in January of this year. Deutsch was also the principal draftsman of the written evidence presented to the House of Commons Home Affairs Committee concerning amendments to the Public Order Act. The recommendations contained in the Commission's evidence bore a striking similarity of intention to recommendations contained in the evidence submitted to the Committee on the same subject by the Board of Deputies – especially where law-changes designed to restrict the National Front were concerned!

In short, the Race Relations Act and the apparatus which makes it work is thoroughly un-British because its inspiration and the cause it is intended to serve is thoroughly Jewish.

So far, so bad. But this conclusion will not come as a shock to those of you who take an interest in these matters. But recently we have seen an especially provocative and mind-boggling display of Jewish arrogance, hypocrisy and corruption.

This came in the 29th January issue of what, to my mind, is the most anti-Jewish hatred-inducing publication available to the general public: the Jewish Chronicle.

To begin with my eye alighted on a long letter from one D. E. Kahan of NW4, under the heading: "But it's the mother's soul". This letter continued the "Who is a Jew?" debate which has rumbled on in Jewish chronicles ever since Jacob began Isaac. Kahan took to task Dr. John Rayner of the Liberal and Progressive Rabbinic Board for disregarding "3,000 years of the universally accepted Jewish practise that in a mixed marriage the child is given the religious status of its mother."

We soon realise that Kahan, like so many Jews, uses the word "religious" (when used to define Jews) to mean race. For he wrote:

"Although genetically the child may inherit equally from both its parents, it must be pointed out that the great Jewish philosophers such as Rabbi Judah Halevi, in the Kuzari classified the Jewish people, not as ordinary human beings who happen to practise the Jewish religion, but as a separate species of mankind."

"This is consistent with the view of the Cabala, quoted in Zohar (Lev. 23:40), 'In the case of Israel, who are holy this zelem (form) is holy and from a holy place. But for the heathens it comes from the 'evil species', from the side of uncleanness. Therefore a man should not mix his form with that of a heathen because the one is holy and the other unclean."

"EVIL SPECIES"

Kahan concludes his letter by saying:

"If we are alarmed at the accelerating rate of intermarriage, then the solution is not to legitimise the offspring, but to ensure that every Jewish youngster has been sufficiently inculcated with a love and pride for Judaism that he or she will never betray their heritage by marrying a non-Jewish spouse."

(Emphasis mine.)

Isn't it nice to know that the people who have foisted on to the Statute Book of our nation the Race Relations Act have been brought up to believe for 3,000 years that only they may be dignified by the term "Man", that they are a separate species whose origin is holy and that we, the heathens, are a distinct unclean and evil species and that therefore to mate and produce offspring from us is a betrayal?

Now it might be suggested that Kahan is some kind of Orthodox Jewish extremist who has quoted Jewish religious books out of context. In view of the potentially explosive substance of the views expressed by Kahan, one would imagine that if his version of Jewish belief was wrongly or disproportionately expressed, then the Chief Rabbi or some other Jewish authority would cause a letter or a statement to be published in some prominent place in the Jewish Chronicle putting matters to rights. But no such authoritative refutation has appeared.

There was, however, a short letter from an un-Orthodox Jew, Jeffrey Segal, in the J.C.'s 12th February issue which began: "So according to D. E. Kahan, who gives chapter and verse, the Nazis got it right after all..." and which ended: "... you are prepared to print what can only be regarded as racist opinions; material which, if it had been published elsewhere, you yourself would have been the first to find pernicious, and possibly contravening the law against incitement to hatred."

I wonder if Race Relations overlords like Nagler, Deutsch, Bindman & Co. are at this moment preparing to ask the Attorney-General to prosecute the Editor of the Jewish Chronicle and Mr. Kahan under the Race Relations Act?

If not, why is Joe Pearce in Chelmsford Jail?

SOUTH AFRICA

Dear N.T.,

You are indeed to be congratulated on your excellent article Rhodesia: Red Tyranny after White Sell-Out appearing in edition No. 7 of your publication. This article displays a most praise-worthy knowledge of the true state of affairs in this part of the World.

Most important of all was your closing sentence warning White South Africans against pinning their hopes on local self-styled "Right-wingers".

Ever since the dynamic gains achieved by the authentic and totally trustworthy Herstigte Nasionale Party in the April 1981 General Election, the Botha establishment has been attempting to under-mine the genuine nationalist cause by publicising alternative so-called "Right-wing" movements. Of late a number of these bodies have come together to form a loose-knit coalition outfit under the curious name of "Action Save White South Africa", which, in spite of its small numbers, has received more favourable publicity from the establishment press than the H.N.P. ever has.

On the face of it this umbrella outfit is harmless enough, containing as it does a collection of Blimpish characters and political eccentrics. A closer investigation, however, reveals far more sinister elements hovering just below the surface.

A leading supporter of the coalition is Dr. Connie Mulder, the disgraced ex-Cabinet Minister who once lied to Parliament. Dr. Mulder, moreover, was quite prepared to serve in the Cabinet of Mr. B. J. Vorster even whilst the early stages of the programme of sell-out and integration were being enacted in this country. One of the component bodies comprising "A.S.W.S.A." is an obscure two-man-and-a-dog outfit known as the "South Africa First Campaign", led by a certain Mr. Brendan Willmer. Mr. Willmer is a Tyndallesque figure par excellence. Having once been a fancy-dress-Nazi cultist, he now seeks to present a stereotype Tory image, courting, as he does, old ladies of both sexes. Although Willmer is a proven rogue and liar, an even more sinister character is his pip-squeak friend and lieutenant, du Bois, who gained himself a very "Left-wing" reputation whilst at University, and who still retains suspicious international religious loyalties.

The most worrying factor of all concerning this set-up is the manner in which certain people who should know better are taken by it. Your words of warning in your edition No. 7 were therefore timely indeed. For our own part, we in this journal will endevour to give support and publicity solely to the genuine and proven Herstigte Nasionale Party.

Yours, for the White Man,

Alan D. Harvey –

President Obote

David Lane

Dear N.T.,

Have any of your readers noticed the striking resemblance between President Obote of Uganda and David Lane, Chairman of the Commission for Racial Equality? Can it be, I wonder, that they are in any way related? I think we should be told.

Yours faithfully,

Philip Gegan, Leicester.

JOE PEARCE

Dear N.T.,

The Joe Pearce verdict was only to be expected; it just shows to what lengths the Establishment will go to stop the British people from reading the truth.

The corrupt Establishment hack by the name of Peter Mason described the contents of Bulldog as "...Dangerous rubbish...". Indeed it is dangerous – dangerous to the Establishment's crumbling, multi-racial madhouse. For if the true facts of this multi-racial hell begins to get through to the people, then they might – just might – be shocked out of their apathy and look towards the one party that has continually fought for them: the National Front.

The Establishment knows and fears this – that is why Joe will not be the last patriot to be convicted for the terrible crime of Nationalism!

As the Blacks continue to riot, burn, loot and rape, the Establishment will try to appease them by offering more of everything – and the blood-offerings of "White Racists".

Despite this we WILL win – even though we may eventually be banned, this hell that has been imposed on us will crumble, and we will triumph!

Then will come the final reckoning!

Yours for Race and Nation,

David Gobell, South Benfleet, Essex.

BRITAIN'S OIL

Dear N.T.,

Britain's oil beneath the North Sea could be the economic salvation of our country. Responsibly used, these enormous reserves of fuel could see us through the looming world crisis until alternative technology is developed.

But, what is in fact happening?

Britain's oil is being rapidly squandered to keep the Liberal, Tory, Labour "Establishment" in power for as long as possible. In fact, the "Establishment" is destroying Britain's long-term future for its short-term gains.

At the current planned rates of extraction, Britain's North Sea oil will begin to run out in less than 10 years time – and, in the not too distant future, will be reduced to a mere trickle.

As well as being ripped off by the "Establishment", the British people are also losing out on another front: the money that is now being made, and which will be made in the future – albeit at a reduced profit – will be made by the largely American owned multi-national consortiums, to whom the exploration rights/oil fields have been sold.

In short, Britain's Oil – and hence Britain's oil revenue – has been given away to foreigners!

John Field, Hackney, London.

SCAPEGOATS

Sir:

Over eleven million people are now out of work in America, the highest number since 1939. West German unemployed reached almost 2,000,000 in November, the highest level in 30 years.

The White American and German workforce is both efficient and conscientious – so it is impossible for reactionary conservatives to turn them into scapegoats.

No! The alarming rate of unemployment in these industrialised states is yet another grim indicator that monopoly-capitalism is the perpetrator of the chronic crisis in which it finds itself.

Graham Jones, Wolverhampton, W.Midlands.

WHITE UNEMPLOYMENT

Dear N.T.,

All the stories about "deprived young Blacks suffering most from unemployment" have now been demolished by the Government's own figures.

According to the Department of Employment, unemployment among Black teenagers in London has risen by 34.4% in the last year. That's quite a lot – until you compare it with the unemployment rate for young White Londoners, which rose by a massive 48.6% in the same time.

So young Whites are far worse off than the pampered Blacks, but we still don't riot or mug old ladies.

S. Morton, Hendon, Middx.

NEWS FROM THE N.N.N.F.

N.N.N.F. members from some of the better parts of Britain flocked into Little Marshbottom for a march and rally last month.

The activity was originally planned for Sheffield, but when it was learnt that skinheads were hoping to support the march, THE LEADER switched the venue to Little Marshbottom, just 180 miles from Bradford!

Members met in a phonebox just outside the hamlet, and from there a convoy of bikes and cars set off for the assembly place.

In the hamlet the local policeman formed a protective cordon around the marchers, and at 3.00 pm the demonstration was under way, led by a forest of masonic aprons and the pounding beat of THE LEADER's eyebrows.

Numbers were swelled during the march by a sheep and three pigs, and by the time the rally point was reached, almost 30 members and supporters were involved.

After the seemingly endless column had wound its way through the main shopping area, THE LEADER began a ten hour speech.

In it, He promised that nationalism would not be allowed to subvert His movement, and that the N.N.N.F. would hold a mass rally on Exmoor to protest at riots in Brixton.

Minor trouble occured – easily dealt with by members of GOAT – when a communist farmer tried to accost a pig who had loudly supported THE LEADER's speech.

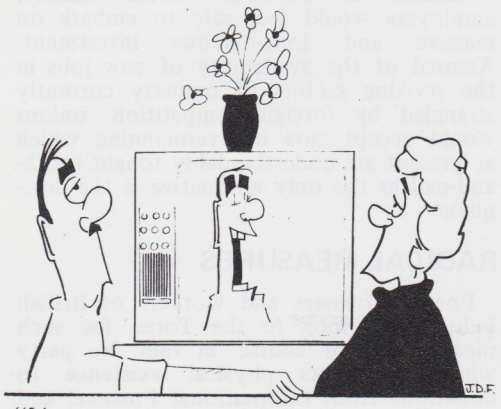
The rally ended when the battery of THE LEADER's Flash Gordon ray gun torch went flat at 2.00 am.

N.B. Pinhead would like to point out that there is no truth in rumours that THE LEADER is to leave the N.N.N.F. to reform the Whig party.

A figment of their imagination

One of West Germany's best-loved politicians, according to a recent opinion poll, is a man made up by the pollsters. "Herr Meyers", an imaginary minister invented by the poll team, came sixth in a nationwide popularity poll.

The non-existent minister was more popular than Herr Apel, the Defence Minister, and, not surprisingly, Gerhart Baum, the Jewish Interior Minister responsible for persecuting German patriots. In this country however, we have gone one better. A whole party made up by the media, with non-existent policies, is already top of the opinion polls!



"We must warn you that the following Conservative Party political broadcast may offend people with anything close to reasonable intelligence."

Dear Pope..

Daily Telegraph 19/1/82

A CALL to Christian churches to let their premises be used for services by Rastafarians, who smoke cannabis as part of their religious ritual, was made by the Catholic Commission for Racial Justice yesterday.

Union of Soviet Socialist Hells,
March 1982.

Dear Pope,

I was pleased to see that the Catholic Commission for Racial Justice in Britain has urged that Rastafarians should be allowed to hold services in Catholic churches.

About time too! In this day and age it is frankly obscene that we progressive opponents of racism and fascism should be divided by minor points of dogma and archaic concepts such as "good" and "evil".

I know that there are one or two minor problems. The Rastas do worship Haile Selassie and write that Jesus bloke off as a mere Black prophet. It's true that their services involve the use of cannabis, but as your bishops say, there is an interesting cultural parallel between this and your use of communion wine (incidently, is one of the bishops on the C.C.R.J. really called 'Tripp' or are you just fooling about?).

You might find a slight on-going problem with the way Rastas treat their girlfriends. My advice is to get washable seat covers in the confession boxes and to tell your more old-fashioned followers that forced prostitution is essential to their cultural expression.

You may even get complaints about the tendency of these lads to mug old ladies, stab cops and "riot". This of course is nothing but propaganda from the racist police and capitalist society as a whole. Real Rastas are as good as gold (thinking of precious metals, remember that church silver is a relic of elitist exploitation anyway and that they do come from deprived homes).

Well, must go now as I've got one or two souls in the oven.

One last thing. Once the more backward elements in your church accept the Rastas, do you think you could see your way clear to letting my lads in? I know there are a few theological grey areas like mass orgies and sacrificing virgins, but on present evidence I'm sure that your bishops will soon be prepared to ignore such minor differences.

Yours against Racism and Imperialism,
Satan, Lord of Darkness.

Diary of a "Revolutionary"

Last weekend Vanessa and I went paper selling with our Hampstead comrades. As we had the use of Daddy's Rolls we drove out to Hertfordshire to educate the poverty striken peasants. Sold 2 copies of Revolutionary Worker.

Reported our great success to Area Organiser Party Comrade Muckstein, but he said it wasn't good enough and sent us to a Revolutionary Training Workshop on "Cultural Realignment and Integration with the Working Class" (mixing with the plebs).

Ever such fun. We had working class elocution lessons where we learnt how to drop our H's. Bought a silk-lined donkey jacket from 'Proles', the Party's clothing collective – only £59.

Party Organiser Party Comrade Rakeoff (whose father owns 'Proles') told us that we must adopt proletarian names. So instead of Julian Bletchford-Drone, I am now to be called "Ken Slagg" – at least in front of the workers.

Worried by the green boil on my chin. Had it for 2 weeks now and although it reminds me of the glorious irresistable growth of Irish Republicanism, I do wish it would go away. Vanessa says she won't let me kiss her till it does (which isn't fair 'cos she's got 3 of them).

Industrial Front

CRASH LANDING

SIR Freddie Laker was the hero of the Tory Party and the low-brow Tory Press. He represented, they claimed, the "acceptable face of Capitalism".

However, the Capitalist folk hero's business empire has come crashing to the ground with debts of over £200 million.

Yet within days of Laker Airways and its associated companies being declared bankrupt, Sir Freddie is announcing to the World that he intends to start up in business again with his "People's Airline" with financial backing from the "unacceptable face of Capitalism", the multi-national company Lonrho (who financed the Patriotic Front terrorists).

Despite the fact that under his management Laker Airways incurred debts of hundreds of millions – the majority of which are unlikely ever to be repaid – Sir Freddie himself stands to lose little financially. He will still keep all his various homes and other personal possessions and will remain a millionaire.

The real losers are the workers of Laker Airways who have been thrown onto the dole, the firms to whom Laker's owe money, and the ordinary people who had paid for their flights in advance.

A DISASTER LOOMS

BRITAIN'S TEXTILE industry, once the greatest in the world, is dying. Mills are closing at the rate of one a week and others are only surviving by sacking thousands of workers and putting off desperately needed investment and modernisation. Owners and employees have repeatedly joined together to point out to successive governments that cheap foreign imports are putting British workers on the dole and now threaten the very existence of the industry.

The last warning comes from the British Textile Confederation, the joint employer and union group. They have attacked Conservative economic policies and high interest rates, for intensifying the effects of a world-wide recession.

The report concludes "the fact is that the Government's measures have made all British industries, including our own, increasingly uncompetitive and thus increasingly vulnerable".

LOW WAGES

The Conservatives' answer to this is that industry must "stand on its own two feet" and keep down its costs, particularly wages, so that it can compete with the flood of cheap foreign goods. This ignores the fact that British workers simply cannot live on the low wages paid to the sweated labour of the Far East, whose goods will therefore always be cheaper than ours.

The only answer is not even to try to compete on the low-wage terms of Asia, but to use import controls to ensure that British factories have a guaranteed home market of well-paid Britons to sell their products to. With this secure base it would then be possible to carry out the other tasks essential to Britain's economic recovery.

Assured of a stable home market, employers would feel safe to embark on massive and long-overdue investment. Assured of the availability of new jobs in the reviving sectors of industry currently strangled by foreign competition, unions would accept cuts in overmanning which at present are understandably fought tooth-and-nail as the only alternative is the dole-queue.

RADICAL MEASURES

For the owners and workers of British industry to look to the Tories for such measures is, of course, in vain. No party which owes its physical existence to donations from International Finance, and its ideology to 19th Century liberal notions of the "sanctity of free trade", is in a position to do anything to halt Britain's economic collapse.

Such action can only come from a new and independent political force built by and for the British people, owing nothing to outdated ideas or financial patronage, and therefore able to implement the radical measures which alone can save this country.

LIVING WITHIN OUR MEANS

Mrs. Thatcher is always telling us that we "must live within our means". Millions of workers are getting pay increases much lower than the rate of inflation. The 4% offer to the nurses, for example, would in reality be a 8% pay CUT when rising prices are taken into consideration.

Not everyone is so hard up. The chief executive of British Oxygen, Mr. Dick Giordano, has just received a pay RISE of £200,000, taking his salary to nearly £½ Million a year.

People in positions of great responsibility are, of course, entitled to a higher wage than average, but they should not be allowed to become parasites. It's time they started to live within our means.

BOSSES AID THE BLACKS

WHILST Birmingham's Aston University is turning away qualified White British school-leavers in favour of Coloured foreigners who can pay higher fees, a new training centre for female Black and Asian school-leavers has just been opened in the city.

The Centre is intended to train young female non-Whites so they can compete more effectively with White British girls for office and clerical jobs, putting our girls out of work. It is being funded not only by the local Council, the Manpower Services Commission and the Commission for Racial Equality but also by big Capitalist firms like GKN, Lucas Batteries, Ansells' Breweries, and Rank Xerox, who are also to give the Black trainees work experience in their plants.

This Black training centre in Birmingham is only part of nationwide Capitalist-funded campaign, Project Full Employ, to help Blacks take jobs from Whites. It was started two years ago in London by two merchant bankers who "noticed a dearth of Black clerical workers in the City".

A LETTER FROM JOE

Dear Nationalism Today,

Please send on my thanks to everyone who has stood by me since I went inside. I've had hundreds of letters and birthday cards and have heard about some of the activities going on out there, including the all-night vigil and march outside the prison. I really do appreciate the support I've been given by my comrades over the last month or so.

I am as determined as ever to bring final victory for the Cause and I've seen much in here to make me feel that our day may be closer than any of us realise. I've got plenty to write and speak about when I see you all again.

Keep up the Struggle while I am temporarily out of action. I'll see you back in the Frontline as soon as I get out of this damn place.

FORWARD WITH THE NATIONAL REVOLUTION!

Your Comrade,

Joe.

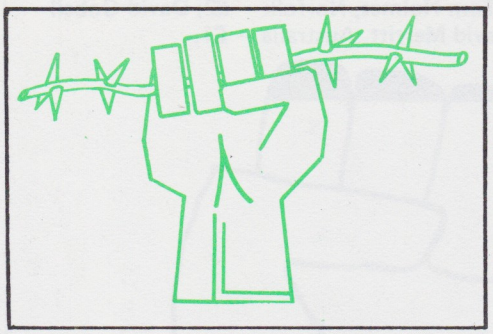
DEFEND OUR ACTIVISTS

Joe Pearce



FINES of £215 for robust self-defence when attacked by IRA sympathisers while attending a National Front "Smash the IRA" March, £300 for painting pro-NF slogans on a wall, £75 for allegedly making threatening guestures towards Reds, £50 for 'obstructing the highway' while paper-selling — these are a few of the vicious fines imposed recently on NF members for trivial offences of which they were falsely accused.

Thanks however to the Militant Patriots Legal Defence and Aid Fund — the MPLDAF — these members have received substantial help towards paying these fines.

Some people may wonder why help should be given at all, and will ask, "Isn't the NF a party for Law and Order?" Such people must ask themselves just whose law and order the NF should be upholding. It is no aim of the NF to uphold the oppressive laws of a liberal-capitalist pseudo-democracy where the law is used to suppress all genuine patriotic opposition.

"IRON CURTAIN"

Since Thatcher came to power the law has been misused to an unprecedented extent to hinder the NF's advance. The objective of this oppression is to build an 'Iron Curtain' between the public and the NF to prevent the party from spreading knowledge of its aims and policies, at a time when Establishment policies are more clearly failing than ever before.

The Establishment knows as well as we do that Britain's steady economic and social disintegration will mean that the NF's message will fall on increasingly fertile ground. The more the Establishment knows it is failing the more it will try to censor the NF by harassing its active members.

JOE'S EXAMPLE

Bulldog editor Joe Pearce has recently set an example of the dedication and courage needed to stand up to the Establishment, in going to jail for six months rather than be silenced by the Race Laws. Undoubtedly more and more NF members will be fined, jailed or otherwise harassed in the future.

To combat this the NF not only needs total commitment to racial nationalism from its members, it also needs MONEY.

The MPLDAF was set up to help NF members who fall foul of repressive legislation. It will do all it can to help the dependants of jailed members, as well as helping to pay fines and legal costs.

The amount of help the MPLDAF can give is however determined by the amount of donations it receives. In order to aid the MPLDAF all patriots — whether or not they are NF members — are asked to donate whatever they can to it.

In particular we appeal for aid from all non-active "armchair" Nationalists. We ask all patriots who cannot, perhaps because of job or family commitments, actively support the movement that they do their utmost to help financially.

Additionally all NF Branch Organisers are asked to donate a part of their regular collections to the MPLDAF — one day their branch activists may need its help.
